Owls at IBK

Capricorn has fledged and is hanging out in the tree next door while she figures out how to fly. Unlike most young birds, Barred Owl chicks fledge before they can fly. They leave their nest when they are four to eight weeks old, but don't master flight until they are up to 12 weeks old.

13th Annual IHS Golf Tournament

Mon., May 20 | 11 a.m. | GC

The roster is filling up more and more every day! There is still time to register groups of four and single players. Don't miss out on this fun event! For a $90 entry fee, each player receives the round of golf and cart, lunch, beverages, chances to win prizes, and an after golf get-together. Plus, bid on pristine golf equipment available in the silent auction.

To get on the players roster and more tournament information, call Scott Francin at .636.489.9062. Proceeds from this event will go towards the IBK Historical Society's current project - the construction of the barn.

Bluebird Trail Report:

This week, our hard working bluebird parents have 96 nests containing 97 eggs and 280 chicks. 53 chicks have already fledged and are flying around Innsbrook.

In real estate, they always say location, location, location, that's the important thing. This week, we learned location is really important to the bluebirds, too. We put up a nest box in a small clearing along Alpine Lake Drive three years ago. Immediately, the birds nested in it, but the last two years there has been no activity. So, two weeks ago, we moved the box across the street and down about 30 feet where there was a larger open area. The next morning, we saw a bluebird sitting on top of the house. The next day, we checked the box and there was some dried grass inside. Two days later it had a full nest and yesterday there were five beautiful bluebird eggs inside- location, location, location!

Please send your reports and/or questions to Shirley at saritsema@gmail.com.

IBK Fishing Club Tips:

You may be seeing schools of bluegill near your shoreline. We hope so! The Fishing Club has been trying to build up populations through stocking and feeding programs. Bluegill spawn in the early summer, hopefully making many more bluegill. Their presence on the lake edges often attracts the bigger fish back into the shallows. To mimic the natural pattern, run baits from the shoreline out into greater depths, as if a bluegill is fleeing its spawning spot to the main lake. The big fish are often lurking near the first depth change.

Next week, Saturday, May 11, from 1:30-4:30 p.m., the IHS is hosting its annual Discovery Day at the Historic Village site. The pictured duo of Dave and Bryan will be entertaining us with their smooth brand of music from the Log Cabin Porch. There will be a scavenger hunt for the kids with prizes, and much more! Complimentary hot dogs, ice cream, and refreshments will also be available. This is an event for ALL of Innsbrook. While you don't need to be a member of the IHS, we would be happy to have you join our ranks. Plan to come out to join in on the fun!

The latest photo (above) shows the recent placement of both gambrel ends of the barn. Our crew has been working tirelessly, and are far ahead of schedule. Next will be the difficult task of placing the roof rafters. This portion of the reconstruction is likely to take quite a bit of patience, time, and planning. If you haven't seen the barn work, stop by on Saturday, May 11 at our Discovery Day Open House.

If you have questions about the IHS, don't hesitate to call Dave at 314.704.7001.

NATURE NOTES

Copperhead vs Northern Watersnake: What are the differences?

Living in harmony with nature is what attracts so many to the Innsbrook community. The surrounding forests and lakes not only provide incredible views and recreation opportunities for residents, but also offer the perfect home for some slithering, unwanted guests - snakes.

Getting to know the difference between non-venomous and venomous snakes and how to identify them can help to avoid direct encounters and ease your fears. The most commonly mistaken identity in our area is the non-venomous northern watersnake vs the venomous copperhead. Learn how to identify each below:

- Patterns: Copperheads have an hourglass-shaped pattern, whereas the northern water snake has a bulb-shaped pattern.
- Coloring: Copperheads have a pale brown to pinkish-brown background skin, while northern watersnakes have a gray, brown, reddish-black, or brownish-black background skin
- Head Shape: Both snakes have triangular heads, but copperheads' are colored orange or copper, while northern watersnakes' are colored according to their skin color
- Cross-bands: The darker, rusty brown cross-bands on the watersnake are widest on the back. That is the opposite of the copperhead, which has dark bands that are skinniest on the back or even fail to connect
- Habitat: Copperheads can swim, but are mainly found in woodlands, while the watersnake can mostly be found in and around water.
