Bluebird Trail Report

This week our hard working bluebirds have 73 nests containing 72 eggs and 218 chicks. Seventy-five more chicks have fledged. Our birds have already fledged 493 chicks this season!

It's fun to watch bluebirds fly, they use flight in three ways while feeding. They "hawk" insects by flying out from a perch to catch them midair. They also have the ability to "hover" as they search for food on the ground, hanging in the air like a small helicopter. And they do normal feeding by short flights from a perch to the ground and back within a few seconds. This is called "drop feeding." Keep your eyes on your bluebirds and see which method of feeding they're using.

Please send your questions and/or reports to Shirley at saritsema@gmail.com.

SAVE THE DATE! 2025 IHS Golf Tournament

Mon., May 19 | GC

Next year's Innsbrook Historical Society Golf Tournament will be held on Monday, May 19, 2025. This event was a big success in 2024. A huge field of golfers and the support of IBK property owners and area businesses contributed to our most financially successful event ever. Funds raised will support the completion of the barn. The growing IBK Village will continue to be a wonderful destination for Innsbrook residents, their families and local schoolchildren who come to learn about and appreciate our areas past.

All of our barn's roof rafters are now installed. The next step in the building process will be the installation of a metal roof. Tuepker Bros. will be beginning that work soon. In the meantime, we are still in need of additional barn wood. If anyone has "leads" on either barn wood, or a barn to be razed, please get in touch with a member of the IHS. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Join us for this Sunday's porch concert (June 23) at 2 p.m.! The McCready-Logan Project, made up of Teddy McCready and Scott Logan, will entertain us with music from the contemporary Rhythm and Blues genre. R&B, along with pop, soul, funk, hip hop, and electronic sounds will be included in their music. So, bring your coolers and lawn chairs! You don't want to miss it.

If you're not yet a member, please consider joining us in helping preserve our little bit of 19th century history here in Warren County. Go to www.innsbrookhistoricalsociety.org. If you have any questions about the IHS, don't hesitate to call Dave at 314.704.7001.

NATURE NOTES

Woodpeckers: Master Builders

Woodpeckers are powerful birds that climb tree trunks and use their beaks like jackhammers. These master builders chisel out nests in tree cavities. As such, their eggs are white as there is no need for camouflage in their luxe tree homes. They can drum 20 times per second with most pecking between 8,000-12,000 times per day. Drumming is also used to communicate along with feeding and home building.

Have you ever wondered how woodpeckers avoid skull-splitting headaches from all that pounding? It's because of an extra thick skull and chisel-like beak. Both are cushioned by strong muscles that act as shock absorbers. Woodpeckers also use their feet and tails for better stability when perched on trees. Their specialized zygodactyl feet have two toes pointing forward and two pointing backward to grip vertical spaces. Their stiff tails will also act like a third leg.

Woodpeckers also have what's known as a third eyelid. This nictitating membrane is translucent and closes just before a woodpecker hits wood with its beak. It cleanses the eye as it moves over it.

Woodpecker nostrils have bristles in them to protect from wood chips and sawdust. The Downy woodpecker, our smallest, has the largest bristles. The long tongues of woodpeckers help to sweep out insects from inside trees and logs. The Red-bellied woodpecker's tongue can reach two inches past its beak. When retracted, their tongues will wrap around their skulls.

Woodpeckers are important members of the forest community. They consume lots of wood-boring insects. Besides insects, woodpeckers eat nuts, fruit, and seeds. Their abandoned tree cavities are prime real estate for bluebirds, chickadees, owls, squirrels and other wildlife unable to dig out their own homes.
